Demo Hopes Raised High

White House Eyed

Elections Give GOP A Jolt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic victories in Tuesday's elections gave Republicans a jolt Wednesday and spurred Democratic hopes of recapturing Congress next year and the White House in 1956.

Chairman Leonard W. Hall of the Republican National Committee frankly acknowledged that the double-barreled Democratic triumph in New Jersey—coupled with Democratic victories in New York City and Virginia—summed up as a blow to the Grand Old Party.

"There is no question about it," Hall said. "As of today, we are in trouble politically."

Some Democratic leaders declared that the results constituted a slap if not an outright repudiation of the Eisenhower administration.

Republicans hotly disputed that interpretation. They contended that local issues were paramount in deciding the outcome in most cases and that little national significance was involved.

Stevenson's Comment
Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, commented:

"It looks as though the fruit of Republican promises and performance is dissatisfaction, disillusion and defeat."

Former President Truman said in Kansas City he was "very, very happy" over the New York-Norfolk results.

"It shows that the people still have a high regard for the New Deal and the Fair Deal," he said.

Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell of the Democratic National Committee said the election returns show there has been "a clear change of sentiment since last November."

Spokesmen for the "New Deal-Fair Deal" wing of the Democratic Party professed to see the outcome of the New York-Norfolk oral contest where Democrat Robert F. Wagner Jr. won a landslide victory—as a big boost for their cause in the 1954 congressional elections and the 1956 presidential race.

Final N. Y. Returns
Final returns gave Wagner 1,021,438 votes, compared with 661,410 for Republican Harold Riegelman and 468,392 for Liberal Rudolph Haller. Wagner's 360,078 plurality was the greatest since William O'Dwyer rolled up a 693,754 margin in 1945.

Republicans took some comfort from the fact that New York hasn't elected a Republican mayor without fusion support for more than 50 years.

The biggest surprise of the day came in New Jersey where the Democrats won the governorship for the first time in 10 years and added an extra fillip to their jubilation by sending a Democrat to Congress from a normally heavy Republican district.

Democrat Robert B. Meyner, a country lawyer, defeated Republican Paul L. Troast in the gubernatorial contest by a vote of 959,669 to 895,750 just a year after Eisenhower swept the state by a 350,000-vote plurality.

Second Recent GOP Setback
Political strategists saw possibly even greater significance in the upset victory scored by Democrat Harrison A. Williams Jr., who defeated Republican George F. Hatfield by about 2,000 votes in the state's 6th Congressional District where a Republican won by 54,000 votes in 1952.

It was the second recent GOP setback in the battle for vacant seats in Congress, capping an upset Democratic victory in the special Wisconsin election on Oct. 13. Another vacancy is to be filled in California next week.

Republicans found some consolation in Virginia where Republican Ted Dalton lost the gubernatorial race to Democrat Thomas B. Stanley—as expected—but gave the Democrats their strongest challenge in modern history.

80 Acres Of Forest Burn Near Omaha

OMAHA (AP)—About 80 acres of timber were burned in Fontenelle Forest Wednesday. Bellevue volunteer firemen and members of the Omaha Walking Club fought the fire. They were hampered by lack of roads on which fire trucks could be brought up the hills.

Aged Fire Truck Breakdown Puts Waverly In Hot Water

By BARCLAY BAYLEY
Star Staff Writer

WAVERLY—The cry "fire!" in Waverly creates more than the usual excitement these days. The Waverly Volunteer Fire Department has no truck. The 20-year-old vehicle they had broke down for good this week on a run to a truck fire south of Prairie Home.

No fire in the farm area surrounding Waverly can be reached until a truck with a water tank can be obtained. Fire Chief John Ruff disclosed. He said that the present 1934-model truck is so old that "it would be a waste of time to try and fix it."

Other Truck
The more than 300 persons in Waverly will still receive fire protection, he said, by carrying hoses on some other truck to the nearest village hydrant.

Asking that nearby farmers call some other department, Ruff said that both Lincoln and Greenwood Fire Departments have volunteered to help. Fire Chief Paul Feaster has emphasized that, due to the distance, he would hardly be possible for them to arrive in time to be effective.

The Waverly volunteers have been serving Waverly and the area within a six or eight mile radius of the village on about 20 calls a year. As yet, no calls have been received since the breakdown.

Rural District
Elmer Schaffkopf, chairman of the Waverly Grange fire district committee stated that the group is now in the process of circulating petitions to see if the community wants a rural fire district. The present department is dependent upon voluntary contributions and the creating of a fire district.

Ruff said that, pending the outcome of the petitions, the volunteers are investigating the possibility of borrowing a truck from some other community possibly the state.

Grisinger New CB&Q General Superintendent

J. C. Grisinger has been appointed general superintendent of the Omaha, Lincoln, and Waverly divisions of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad. Headquarters is in Lincoln.

The announcement was made Wednesday by S. L. Fee, vice-president of the CB&Q operating department in Chicago, Ill.

Grisinger, who has served as assistant general superintendent here since last August, succeeds the late Leon L. Smith. He began his career with the Burlington in February, 1921, and has held positions such as maintenance of way, telegraph operator, dispatcher, and trainmaster.

Grisinger is a native Lincolnite who was born here in 1904 and attended Saratoga School and later Lincoln High School for a short period. His father, the late J. C. Grisinger, at that time trainmaster for the Burlington here, moved the family to La Grange, Ill., in 1917.

Before accepting his latest position here, Grisinger was division superintendent at McCook from 1949 to 1953. He held a similar position in Casper, Wyo., for the year prior to that. Before that time he had held positions with the railroad in Omaha, Wymore, Iowa, and Illinois.

In other appointments announced by Fee, E. L. Potari of Omaha was named general manager of the lines east of the Missouri River, with headquarters in Chicago. Potari succeeds H. E. Hinshaw, who is retiring after 44 years of service due to ill health.

E. P. Stine was appointed general manager of the lines west of the Missouri River, with headquarters in Omaha. Stine began his career in 1920 and has held various positions in the operating departments of the Burlington and the Colorado & Southern railroads.

Ike Is Not Too Happy

'Skirmishes Lost Before,' He Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower declared Wednesday that "I've lost skirmishes before."

He voiced firm confidence that in spite of the Democratic election victories the American people in the long run will endorse the policies of his administration at the polls.

Eisenhower volunteered these remarks in a brisk, thrust-and-parry news conference at which he also assailed Russia's rebuff of an Anglo-American-French proposal for an early Big Four meeting on Germany and Austria.

As it happened Wednesday's news conference fell on the first anniversary of Eisenhower's election.

Two Minutes Early
Striding into the meeting two minutes ahead of the appointed 3 p.m., Eisenhower announced at the outset that quite naturally he was not completely happy with Tuesday's election outcome in some places.

He went on to say, with growing warmth, that it is the administration's job not so much to intervene in elections on behalf of individual candidates as to provide a dynamic foundation for Republicans' campaigns.

He said he sincerely believes the program his administration is developing will work for the benefit of all Americans, in what he described as a slow but sure process.

During the news conference Eisenhower made two other main points:

1. He thinks the changes are favorable for the holding of a Korean political conference, but there are a great many factors which might prevent it.

2. He personally approved the Soil Conservation Service reorganization which Secretary of Agriculture Benson put into effect despite critics' demands that it be delayed. The President added that his Agricultural Advisory Commission approved it, too.

Says Misquoted
Then, back to domestic politics—a field in which he smilingly described himself as a novice—the President turned aside all efforts to get him to say whether the Democratic victories in New Jersey and elsewhere were evidence of dissatisfaction with the way his administration has been doing things.

He did declare that a Republican candidate, to get his support, must have a record of honesty and integrity—in other words, that he isn't going to go out and name each Republican candidate and say he supports him.

Let's have no mistake on this, said the President, adding he saw himself misquoted on that point last week.

James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary, said last week the President favored the election of all Republican candidates everywhere.

General Endorsement
Eisenhower agreed, however, that his and Hagerty's remarks added up to a general endorsement of Paul Troast, defeated Republican candidate for governor of New Jersey. The President said he meant to endorse GOP candidates in the absence of any information against them.

He had no such information against Troast, he added, and said he would think his general statement was that much of an endorsement of Troast, at least.

Thus the President indicated he did not consider that Troast had disqualified himself by writing a letter to Gov. Dewey of New York interceding in behalf of the imprisoned labor racketeer, Joey Fay.

Political Interest Switches To West Coast Vote Race

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Sweeping Democratic off-year election victories pinned nationwide attention Wednesday on the Los Angeles area, where a special election will be held next Tuesday to fill a vacancy in California's 24th Congressional District.

Astute political observers of both major parties believe the results in California may determine whether the swing from the GOP has extended from Coast to Coast.

Two Republicans and two Democrats are contending for the unexpired term of Morris Poulson, who resigned from his congressional seat following his election as mayor of Los Angeles.

Winter Arrives With A Big Bang

This auto accident occurred as winter came to Denver with a splatter of rain that later turned to snow. The snowfall measured two inches and the temperature was 30—the city's coldest of the season. 'Slick streets and poor visibility caused the mishap when a car driven by Mrs. Nora M. Kennedy, 34, (right) crashed into three parked autos, pushing one of the vehicles up on the sidewalk and turning it over. (AP Wire photo Wednesday Night.)

Farm Prices Dip 5 Per Cent

... Skid In Nebraska Reflects National October Trend

The prices received by Nebraska farmers for their products skidded more than five per cent in October to the lowest October point since 1949.

This price decline compares with a two per cent drop suffered by farmers in the nation as a whole. This was announced in the mid-month report of farm commodity prices issued Wednesday by the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

Lower prices for corn, potatoes, grain sorghums, alfalfa seed, hogs, cattle, sheep, lambs and chickens accounted for the decline. The food grains index showed a slight increase as a result of a rise of four cents per bushel in wheat.

Corn Drop
Lead by a 14 cent decline in the price of corn, the feed grains index dropped more than five per cent. The Nebraska commodity index is down a total of 9.3 per cent from October, 1952.

The meat animals index declined sharply during the month with only calf prices showing a rise. Hog prices declined $3.10 per hundredweight, averaging $21.20 in the middle of the month. Even with this drop hog prices stood at the highest level for October since 1948. Cattle prices stayed on the skids by dropping 80 cents during the month.

Items Listed
The program for the Bureau of Reclamation in the Missouri Basin includes these construction items for Nebraska:

Bostwick Division, $4,401,740.
Mirage Flats Project, $59,667.
Frenchman-Cambridge Division, $4,954,354 (in Kansas and Nebraska).

A breakdown of money to be spent in Nebraska for investigations includes:

Ainsworth Unit $152,040
Farwell Unit $264,854
Lavaca Flats Unit $10,000
Mirman Unit $10,000
Sargent Unit $48,885
Scotia Unit $15,700.

General investigations appropriations included $691,839 for the North Platte project in Nebraska and Wyoming.

A $102,551 appropriation is listed for operation and maintenance of the Frenchman-Cambridge Division in Nebraska and Wyoming.

Peace Doubt
Asked for his views on the peace conference, ultimate unification, and free elections, Rhee said that Red tactics since the armistice "confirm our doubts as to the possibility of a peaceful settlement of any questions with the Soviets at the conference."

"We will allow the people of the North to hold the election under the observation of the United Nations," he said. "If the free people of the Republic of Korea I would be glad to step aside and let the entire nation hold a nationwide election."

At another point, Rhee declared that if the peace conference fails South Korea "must act to unify Korea and drive from our soil the Chinese who now are settling in the north with the idea of eventually seizing the whole country."

Crash Victim's Condition Is Reported Still 'Fair'

4-Inch Fall At Sidney

Mixed Rain, Snow Deliver Valued Moisture

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Farm Editor

Winter weather came into Nebraska in the best way possible Wednesday by spreading a thin, wet layer of snow over the parched southwest section of the state.

Snow fell at Sidney, Imperial and McCook with Imperial reporting the greatest amount of precipitation from the snow—67 of an inch. The depths of the snow varied from an unofficial four inches at Sidney to about an inch west of McCook in the Benkelman area. At McCook, where about three inches of snow fell, heavy slush on gravel roads temporarily stopped school busses.

But more newsworthy than the arrival of the first measurable amount of snow in the state was the moisture which resulted both from snow and light rains which fell in scattered regions of the state. The greatest rainfall was an inch and a half at a point about 18 miles north of Cambridge. Cambridge itself received a half inch of rain, and Superior received 1.23.

At Columbus water was flowing in the Platte River Wednesday for the first time since early July.

A number of streams carried water down the previously dry channel which for the first time since mid-summer was covered with water over its entire length. It was good news to hunters who wasted no time in going after ducks along the river.

The snow on runways and heavy clouds as low as 400 feet restricted air travel through the storm area Wednesday. The airport at Imperial reported that the snow fell lightly most of the day but had slowed to intermittent flurries by evening. Temperatures above freezing caused the snow to melt almost as soon as it hit the ground.

Imperial was the only point in the state which reported snow still on the ground Wednesday night.

Weather at McCook had changed to a light, "spitting" rain Wednesday night, and a radio man there said that the snow and rain together should bring about a half inch of moisture to the area.

Dave Coolidge, State Highway Engineer at Imperial, said snowplows were ordered into the snowfall area Wednesday to help clear the remaining slush from highways. No traffic was blocked on the highways.

The snow and rain was especially welcome in the southwest Nebraska wheat country. Counties such as Dundy and Hitchcock which have been particularly hard-hit by the drought, however, did not get an appreciable amount of moisture.

Other points in the state which received the badly-needed rain included North Platte with .31 inch, Lexington, .27 and Lincoln with .05. Grand Island had .16, and Holdrege had an inch.

Thursday's forecast calls for decreasing cloudiness in the southwest and fair skies in the north and southeast. Temperatures are expected to range in the 50s over the state.

Fire Destroys Garage, Car

A garage fire at the Mrs. Lois Ernst residence at 2621 So. 9th, caused "considerable damage" when it totally destroyed a car in the garage and other articles late Wednesday afternoon.

Firemen believe that the fire was started by children playing with matches.

The doors to the garage were also burned. The car inside was owned by a brother of Mrs. Ernst, Charles Sterner Jr.

Lawn equipment and storm windows were also burned in the fire. The garage was situated at the back end of the lot, too far from the house for the flames to spread.

Red Balk On Peace Bid Is Hit

Ike Says Soviets
Show No Intention
Of Meet With West

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday accused Russia of repeatedly frustrating American and Allied efforts to get to grips with the Soviets on major world issues.

The President gave that expression of impatience at his news conference in summing up his reaction to the latest Moscow message rebuffing a bid for a conference on Germany and Austria.

Eisenhower said the Russians show no intention of meeting with the West but on the contrary "an intention to create as many difficulties as possible."

Furthermore, he declared that the Russians have gone beyond merely rejecting an American-British-French proposal for a foreign ministers' meeting on Germany and Austria and in their note actually "seek to prevent such a conference by injecting impossible conditions."

Finality
The fact that it was the President instead of Secretary of State Dulles who spoke out on this government's first reaction to the Soviet rejection indicated the importance and perhaps the finality which the United States attaches to the Soviet position.

It raised the possibility that in future consultations with Britain and France, the United States may argue that the exchange of notes between the Western countries and the Soviet Union on a Big Four foreign ministers' conference should now be dropped because of Russia's unwillingness to negotiate in clearly established.

However, officials said there is no decision yet on this point. There will not be one until after a further study of the note.

Another implication of the President's statement is that his own and Dulles' opposition to a top-level meeting, as periodically suggested by British Prime Minister Churchill, has been strengthened by evidence that the Soviets just do not want to negotiate on anything at the moment.

Plan Under Study

Thomas R. Pansing, insurance director, took under advisement the legality of a certain fire insurance renewal plan after a hearing Wednesday. It was pointed out that the decision would not effect rates. About 50 persons attended the hearing.

FBI Arrests 3 Top Rank U.S. Commies

WASHINGTON (INS) — FBI agents arrested three high ranking Pennsylvania Communist party members Wednesday on charges of plotting to overthrow the U. S. government by force and violence.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover announced the arrests in Pittsburgh and Brentwood, Pa., of Martin Chancy, 45, George Watt, 39, and Anthony Krichmarek, 55.

Hoover said the three "have held ranking positions in Communist party operations in the Eastern section of the country."

He said Chancy served as a Communist party functionary in New York, Ohio and Washington, D. C.

Krichmarek has allegedly been active in the party in Ohio. Hoover said Watt has held the position of secretary of the National Review Commission of the Communist party.

The Lincoln Heights Methodist Church is the leading church in the district, having gained more than 24 per cent in membership during the program.

News Around The Globe

Reds Reject Parley Recess

PANMUNJOM (Thursday)—(INS)—U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean today proposed a recess in the preliminary Korea peace talks while Allied and Communist advisers try to break a 10-day-old deadlock holding up adoption of an agenda.

The Communists rejected the proposal for the time being, but promised "further study and comment" and the meeting was adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Meantime, reliable United Nations sources said Dean probably would confer with South Korean President Syngman Rhee in Seoul concerning developments in the preliminary conference. Rhee has threatened to boycott the Korea peace conference if the U.N. agrees to Communist demands that neutral nations be invited to participate in the conference.

Red Coaxing Tactics Bring Indian Action

PANMUNJOM (Thursday) — (INS)—A neutral Indian General today cut short renewed Communist attempts to force anti-Red Chinese POWs to face long hours of explanations and "operation persuasion" became a scene of milling confusion.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission personally intervened when he found only one POW interview had been completed 80 minutes after the explanations began. He said: "This is getting absurd. It's got to stop some place."

He curtly ordered recesses in six interviews which already had run 90 minutes and the prisoners were removed from the booths while Indian tent chairmen and neutral commission representatives discussed the situation.

Thimayya acted in enclosure A, and by 11:45 a.m. almost all of the 16 explanation tents were empty while the barred wire enclosure was filled with milling groups of military and civilian personnel from 10 different nations.

A neutral Swedish officer disclosed that one interview yesterday had lasted five hours. But the POW involved, and another who endured four hours and 20 minutes of explanations, rejected Communism.

The Swedish officer said "the difference between a long interview and a short one seems to be entirely a matter of the prisoner's manner. If he struggles and shouts, it is fairly short. If he sits more or less quietly and listens, it can go on for hours."

The Reds netted only two of 203 Chinese POWs interviewed yesterday.

In PURSUIT of HAPPINESS

By J. GORDON ROBERTS

Educator M. R. Madden, Ph.D., concludes his review of "Politics in Action": "With regard to the goal for civic education, the author believes that 'in the new democracy there must be a sharp distinction between education for citizenship and education for statesmanship...'

"Every citizen should be taught the fundamental principles of American constitutional government, but he does not need to know the details of political organization and administrative activity..."

"He should be taught the psychology of public opinion and methods of creating it; and the elements of due process of law, forms of proof in public controversies, and of procedures in public assemblies; and above all the meaning of justice and liberty under the American Constitution."

"Education for statesmanship is not necessary for all, 'as statesmanship is a profession which in the new democracy not every citizen need try to practice' (p. 26)."

"How Professor Holcombe reconciles this goal, to educate the citizens in the American Constitution, with his unfavorable criticism of it and the changes he advocates for it does not appear in the Pamphlet."

TRUST SERVICE--

The Best Way To Provide Family Security!

Experience has proved that in most cases the trust is the best method of providing family security — because the trust is much more than merely a form of ownership.

Through a period of years—during the lifetime of one's wife and until the children are grown, for example—the trust holds the property together, disburses income and principal according to a plan tailored to a particular need, and provides productive investment, surrounded by unusual safeguards. In addition, the trust provides the flexibility to deal with important family problems that can't be predicted and planned for in advance.

And now, through the establishment of the COMMON TRUST FUND, all the advantages of wide investment diversification and full investment management, heretofore available only to the largest trusts, have been placed within the reach of small and moderate-sized trusts.

Therefore, no matter how small your estate may be, trust service is the best answer to the problem of providing family security.

In Selecting Judges

Too much emphasis upon pay could have the unfortunate effect of defeating the plan proposed by a Nebraska Bar Association committee for selecting judges for the supreme court, the district courts and the county courts. It is true that Nebraska holds a pretty tight purse string when it comes to rewarding men of high judicial qualifications and character, particularly true when the comparison is with salaries paid by other states. We are pretty close to the bottom in our financial rewards for public service.

But the plan, variously known as the Missouri Plan, actually more accurately the program of the American Bar Association, has much to commend it.

Under it, judges serve for specific terms.

When those terms end, the names of the judges go back on the ballot with the question: "Shall Judge _____ be retained?" If the vote is in the affirmative, the judge would serve another term before going before the electorate again. If in the negative, the office would become vacant. Vacancies so created—as well as vacancies resulting from death or resignation—would be filled by appointment by the governor choosing from a list of three names submitted by a committee of members of the bar and civic-minded citizens. And after a new judge is appointed, he, too, would come before the voters at regular intervals to determine whether he should be retained in office.

The proposal merits careful attention.

The Old Familiar Places

We read recently of a young Nebraskan who had served in one of the auxiliary branches of the armed services and was stationed in New England. As fall approached, she applied for a leave from her duties, noting on her request that she felt she must go home because she "missed the beauty of Nebraska in the autumn." This was the cause for considerable local amusement at the time, because nowhere in the country, perhaps, is nature more flamboyant or riotous with its paint pots than in those upper coastal states.

There is that quality about the fall of the year that plucks at the heartstrings, sending thoughts back along the byways of memory and directing footsteps once again toward home. Perhaps the approach of the holiday season has something to do with this vague yearning to seek a far, familiar horizon, but whatever it may be, only a sentimental pilgrimage will satisfy it.

One of our state's fine writers knows the feeling. Mrs. J. W. Tyler has long been a Peruvian, and leads an extremely happy and satisfying life there among her college associates. But Missouri is her homeland and "when the hunter's moon is a silver disc and the clang of the wild geese sounds in the night sky, we always get the homing urge." So it was that she boarded the train for a week among her "ain folk" and her native hills.

One day saw them all off on a logging excursion. Trees were being cut through timber land to make way for high power lines, and trucks were hauling the fallen timber away to the saw mill. The scene was a bustle of motorized activity—cars, trucks, tractors. Mrs. Tyler looked down at the tot by her side who represented the sixth generation there on the family acres, and mused that the little one's great, great grandfather had used oxen to snare logs with which to build his cabin there in the virgin forest, and to fuel his fireplace.

From the site of the logging undertaking, they followed a country lane to a grove of hickory trees she had known as a child and there gathered the little shell bark ovals, of which "there is none more flavorful among the entire nut tribe." And home again, the meats promptly found their way into a batch of fudge which was declared "good."

As her word visit drew to a close, she was walking again under the tall trees she had once thought the giants of the earth—all this before she had seen a skyscraper, a mountain, or a sequoia. And she recalled that Thomas Hood once felt the trees about his house reached into the sky, and pensively observed in his old age: "And now 'tis little joy to know I'm further off from heaven than when I was a boy."

India Comes Through

The free western nations have not yet fully evaluated India's contribution to human justice in its difficult dealings with the problem of repatriation of Korean prisoners of war. But time will magnify the role played by the quiet, clear-thinking nation.

It was Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya's decision that ruled out the Red demand for force to bring dissident former Red army soldiers into the persuading room. It was a decision for freedom of choice recognizing rights of men over demands of dictators. It went into the very essence of the issue between the free nations and Communism, and permitted a decision between the two by the individual. It is significant that India's action was preceded by Communist failure which saw only 22 Red army prisoners out of 921 choose repatriation when persuasion short of force was tried. It took courage to face up to Communist determination to hide the fact of its weakness. But it was a victory for the individual.

The promise of free choice to the entire contingent of 22,400 prisoners will achieve more for the cause of freedom than all of the cannonading in the Korean war. It is the new force revealed in that sorry struggle. It carries the fulfillment for which the groping Asiatics have been reaching. The fact that Communism has been unmasked and its leaders warned against further association with the West does not gainsay that a powerful ferment has been planted in the hearts of oppressed people and Communism will not now ever be rid of it nor recover from it. For this we owe much to India.

Humility, 1953

The Minneapolis Tribune pens a fitting close to the Julius LaRosa incident:

The lad had no humility
So Arthur Godfrey set him free
To teach him meekness on TV.

The moral's plain as day, we guess:
The humble star at Art's address
The cocky star for CBS.

Ike's Benson Support Influenced By Brother

WASHINGTON—Some of the President's most potent advisers pulled wires at the White House last week over two different policies but ended up with completely opposite results.

On the economic front, GOP Sen. Ed Thye of Minnesota phoned the White House demanding that Ike get a new chief of his small business administration. Thye got his way. William D. Mitchell, head of small business, was pre-emptorily fired.

On the farm front, GOP Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas, one of Ike's closest friends and political advisers, called to ask that the re-organization of the Soil Conservation Service be delayed. Carlson did not get his way. Early Monday morning, Secretary of Agriculture Benson called a special press conference to announce that the re-organization of soil conservation would go ahead forthwith.

In other words, Sen. Thye of Minnesota, not especially close to Ike, won out on his plea regarding small business; while Carlson of Kansas, who is close to Ike, failed. Furthermore, other potent GOP politicians backed up Carlson—Congressmen Cliff Hope of Kansas, George Bender of Ohio, and Sen. Young of North Dakota, all Republicans.

However, Ike fired one man, Mitchell; and supported the other man, Ezra Benson, to the hilt. Some people want to know why.

The answer is fairly simple—namely, the President's brother, Milton Eisenhower.

Milt is strongly backing Benson. Furthermore, Milt wants the land-grant colleges to take over a large part of the Soil Conservation Service, which Sen. Carlson, et al, don't want taken over.

Milt is president of a land-grant college, Penn State. He was formerly president of another land-grant college, Kansas State College at Manhattan. Ever since he was an assistant in the Department of Agriculture under the Democrats, Milt Eisenhower has believed that soil conservation and various other services should be taken out of Washington and put in the hands of the land-grant colleges.

Furthermore, there is about $1,000,000 in the budget to be distributed among the land-grant colleges and their existing services to handle certain phases of soil conservation under the new setup.

So, as between his brother and Republican politicians, even close politicians, Ike stood with his brother. That was why Secretary Benson took the unusual step of calling a 9:30 a.m. press conference to announce flatly that soil conservation was going to be reorganized, congressional pressure notwithstanding.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Continental Defense Far Short Of Safety

WASHINGTON—Two recognized authorities with indisputable scientific knowledge have now spoken out on the defense of the North American continent. While they carefully observe security requirements and keep clear of all sensationalism, they have to say is nevertheless of the gravest purport and should be soberly considered by those making policy here in Washington, from the President on down.

In the current Atlantic Monthly, James R. Killian Jr., president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and A. G. Hill, director of the Lincoln Laboratory at MIT, state the case for continental defense. As head of the laboratory, Hill supervised the study of a defense system for the American continent contracted for by the Air Force and shared in by all three armed services.

The two authorities say that much more should be done than is now being done if the United States is to have a fair chance of averting an atomic catastrophe that might at a single blow destroy America's power to strike back.

An adequate defense system would not, the two authors say, cost anything like the $20 billion figure that has been used by those who suggest that defense from atomic bombers is all but impossible, anyway. A greater effort would, however, mean sacrifices to pay for the added cost. In other words, there is no easy solution such as carving a few hundred millions out of the defense allocation to the armed services.

The two scientists point out that this country has already invested many billions in air defense. Yet top Air Force officials have repeatedly said that the present defense system would stop only a small fraction of an armada of bombers carrying atomic bombs and the casualties from such an attack would be in the millions. Sen. Stuart Symington, Democrat of Missouri, former secretary of the Air Force, used an estimate from the Lincoln study of 13,000,000 casualties.

Therefore the country is faced with the need to make the already huge investment of men and material really workable the authors go on to say:

"If we can give our present system better eyes to detect low-flying aircraft which the existing radar doesn't see; if we can give our interceptors and our anti-aircraft—as well as our civilian defense—time to get set to fight an invading force; if we can improve

TOURING GREEK MONARCHS

Seldom have reigning monarchs of Europe gone to such pains to visit almost every corner of the U. S. A. as King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece. From inspecting farms around Aurora, Ill., to visiting friends of the blind in Boston, and congratulating City Commissioner George Christopher of San Francisco, the king and queen will painstakingly get acquainted with almost every walk of American life.

For a while, however, it looked as if their trip had run into a snag. Arriving in New York, their majesties were informed that President Eisenhower was not going to meet them at the airport in Washington. This was contrary to established diplomatic protocol, and for a brief moment, Queen Frederika indicated she might not go on to Washington. She would go to Boston, Toledo, Detroit and all the other cities but not Washington.

Reason for the royal sensitive-ness is that the head of a state always goes to meet another head of state. When a king, queen or president has taken the long trip across the Mediterranean and the Atlantic, it's considered courteous for the President to go to the railroad station or airport to meet them. And since the king and queen of Greece came to the U. S. A. on the official invitation of the U. S. government, Queen Frederika was unhappy, felt that Greece was being snubbed.

Naturally, the royal party knew that President Truman came to the airport to meet all sorts of dignitaries from the president of France to the president of Brazil and the Queen of Holland. He even bounced down to the airport when Dean Acheson came back from missions to Europe.

A State Department official, asked why President Eisenhower didn't meet the Greek king and queen, said he thought it was because he didn't want to meet various Latin-American presidents due to arrive later. Another State Department official explained: "The President just doesn't like airports."

Newsmen who called the Burning Tree Country Club to see if Ike was golfing that day—being Wednesday and his customary day for golf—were given the pat answer: "The President is meeting the king and queen of Greece." However, he did not meet them—until their majesties drove up to the White House and walked up the steps. Persuasive Ambassador Politis meanwhile had deftly induced the queen to proceed with the planned itinerary.

In the end, the royal couple made a tremendous hit in the nation's capital. Everyone liked them and they seemed glad they came.

the capacity and speed of our communication and control systems so that our generals can properly, amply and quickly exert the functions of command—if we can do these things by further technical development, then we shall have a sound basis of appraising the proposed expenditures."

With restraint but nevertheless with great emphasis, Killian and Hill insist on the need for more facts so that the American people will be able to understand what is at stake. They say the public needs more quantitative information—more facts about the destructiveness of the numbers of bombs accumulated especially now that the hydrogen bomb is a weapon tested both by this country and the Soviet Union and therefore sooner or later to have a place in the arsenal of both nations.

For several months predictions have been forthcoming of a presidential speech giving the country more of the truth. At the White House it is said that this is still in the works. It will come in a matter of weeks, certainly before the end of the year, in a telecast from the White House. This may also afford the President an opportunity to talk about continental defense.

The present direction of policy-planners in the Department of Defense is toward ever greater reliance on atomic weapons. This accords with the conviction that no nation, not even as rich and productive a country as the United States, can afford both the old, conventional arms and the new atomic arsenal.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles denied that the United States at present has plans to store atomic bombs in Spain, thus throwing down statements by Air Force chiefs. While this may be technically correct, the fact is that plans are in the making to enable the NATO defense organization to have atomic weapons available in Western Europe. It is clearly realized that with America moving toward greater atomic capabilities, the NATO defense of Western Europe would be unrealistic if it did not incorporate at the working level this same capability. The hope is that a change in the law to make this possible will be initiated in Congress.

But exactly the same thing applies to the defense of these shores. Unless continental defense recognizes the destructive potential of atomic explosives in this the eighth year of the atomic age, that defense will be unreal.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

The Humane Society And Its Work

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

More than 20 excited giggling young girls entered the adoption home for a look around. The curious little ladies, on an afternoon visit, wanted to see what kind of babies were up for adoption. There was a little crying from the babies and even some of the older ones.

The parade of small people wound through the corridor out to a sign near a door which said: "Adoption." There—were four fidgety pups, bubbling over with youthful energy. The baby puppies yelped an excited greeting to the pushing crowd of visitors.

The Humane Society is an active adoption home. Approximately two to 10 pups a day are found by the shelter, some lost, some homeless, and some hurt. But adoptions equal the number of homeless found. In fact Leslie Loomis in charge of the shelter says that the records show a waiting list of 50 to 75 people who have called to seek a particular breed of a dog.

"Keep 'em clean," a difficult motto to live up to, is rigorously enforced for all dogs at the shelter.

Every dog that comes in is given a bath in a regular bathtub built up off the floor. The dog is then put into a drying cage where the wet dripping stray is transformed into a clean, bugless pooch.

If the stray is sick, the shelter administrators "first aid," and if the dog is in need of veterinary care, the animal is promptly taken to one. The "doctor's bill" alone costs the shelter from $10 to $50 monthly.

Although the external part of the canine is getting the best guest service, the internal—the stomach—is not forgotten. More than 1,000 gal. of milk, 20 tons of dog meal and 50 to 60 cases of canned dog food are consumed annually by the hordes of dogs that find temporary residence at the Humane Society.

And the dogs are not the only recipients of the "clean" treatment. The 78 individuals inside pens and approximately same number of outside pens are given a steam bath daily.

Another motto of the shelter is "no dogs stay overnight."

Every dog, stray or not, has his own individual bed and food pan. Loomis firmly believes that if this motto were to be carried out by every dog owner, there would be only healthy, happy

Little Girls' Hearts

Somebody said once that children are cruel, and a lot of people have repeated it since, and I thought of it when our daughter, who is 11, came racing into the house the other day.

"Can I go over to the playground after dinner?" I heard her ask her mother. "A lot of the kids are going to be there, and I told 'em I'd come if I could."

Mrs. F. said she saw no objection. Then, on the way upstairs, Merrilee paused on the first landing and shouted down, "Mother, if Margie telephones me, tell her I'm not home, because she'll just want me to play with her, and I don't want to."

"I can't do that," Mrs. F. said. "You'll have to think of some excuse yourself."

"Aw, gee!" protested Merrilee, but she accepted the verdict and disappeared upstairs.

Why not play with Margie?" I asked Mrs. F.

"Margie is a bore," explained Mrs. F. "She wants everything her own way, and sulks if she can't have it, and she has never really liked to play with the other children. Her parents spoil her—that's probably the reason. The other youngsters try to dodge her all the time. I really feel sorry for her—she must be so lonely."

"Why can't she go along to the playground?" I wanted to know. "She wouldn't go, probably," said Mrs. F. "She's always afraid the others will pick on her, or make fun of her."

The telephone bell interrupted. We heard Merrilee's "hello" on the upstairs extension, and then a jumble of words punctuated by silences. After a while, Merrilee came downstairs again.

"Margie's coming over after dinner," she announced, "and we'll play in the back yard. I guess they won't need me at the playground."

In spite of Mrs. F.'s elbow in my ribs, I said, "But I thought you didn't want to play with Margie?"

"Gosh, that's the trouble," said Merrilee. "Nobody does, and if I go as lonely as she does, I'd cry, and anyway, I can play with the other kids tomorrow."

I watched our unpredictable daughter out of sight into the kitchen, and turned to find Mrs. F. grinning at me.

"Children," she parroted, "are cruel!" I threw a cushion at her—but not hard. I was too glad to be wrong.

dogs, instead of yapping, fussy ones.

The inside kennels are in three separate rooms, one in which the temperature is kept in the 70's for the puppies and small dogs, and the other two which are kept from 65 to 68 degrees for the older and larger dogs. The dogs are routed out of their beds anywhere from 5 to 8 a.m. daily and placed in the wire pens outside. The inside kennels are then given a thorough cleaning. And when the dogs are returned to the inside kennels, the outside pens are given the thorough treatment.

The dogs are kept outside in the winter according to their hardiness, the larger, longer-haired ones staying out longer.

Besides the physical health of the entering resident, the mental health of the dog is just as important to check. Every dog is observed when it is placed in the shelter. Here you find what kind of treatment the dog has received—a cringing, shaking dog indicates lack of love and attention, and a peppy, easily adaptable dog shows that the master took an interest in the dog.

At this point Loomis takes out after the hunter. Right now, in the midst of the hunting season, the dogs are loved, petted and lovingly cared for. But some hunting masters immediately drop the attention and care after hunting season is over.

"The dogs," Loomis says, as a result, "get stale and sour on the world."

The old saying that "you can't pet hunting dogs" is so much the bosh to the dog-wise head of the shelter. And he can cite plenty of hunting dog owners who give their dogs the attention and love they need and also win the blue ribbons at the dog trials.

Loomis is also a little perturbed at the people who call up for a trained hunting dog in the midst of hunting season and then return them to the shelter after the season is over. These people are not in the majority, Loomis happily relates.

Despite the name, "Humane Society," there are ugly rumors about the shelter that Loomis would like to dispel.

"We never put a dog to sleep that is in good health and can be the type to make a good dog."

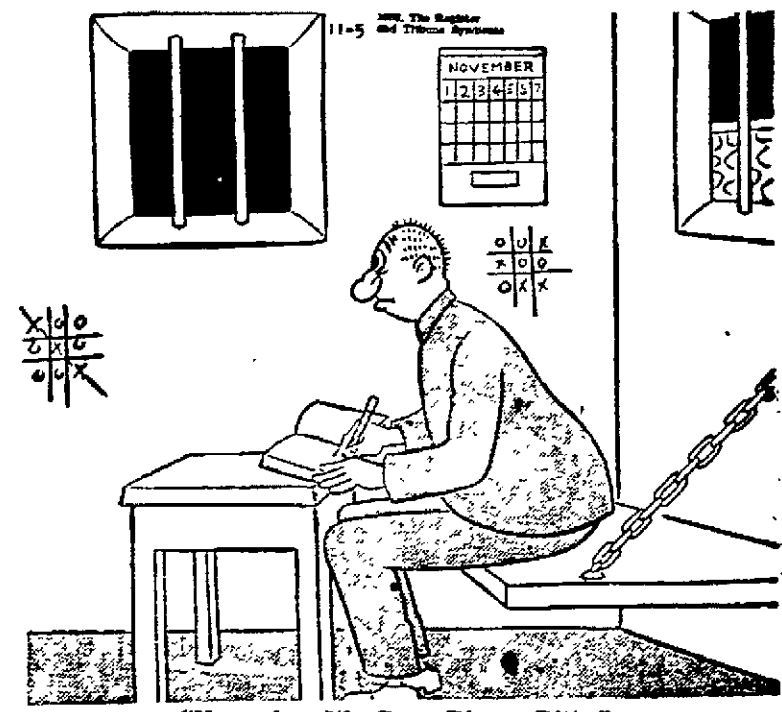

Loomis remembers dogs that have been kept more than a year until a home was found for them. Eventually, he believes, nearly every dog finds a home. The mental health of the dog counts heavily in releasing it to a new owner. The dog that has been lacking the love and attention he needs can be cast into a new mould under proper care of the new owners. It is a difficult process though, Loomis warns.

Another dog that is liable to cause difficulties is the old dog. This dog has accepted and loved his master for the better part of his life. Many dogs between eight and 10 years of age simply cannot adjust to new homes and slowly die of grief for their original master.

Then there are the puppies that are born in the shelter bitched by stray mothers.

These puppies, Loomis intimates, go like hot cakes. But no matter what kind of dog, the main interest in the shelter is finding a suitable new owner.

Coal Industry Hit By Oil Speaker

OMAHA (AP)—If the coal industry were as "progressive as the oil industry, the coal people would be selling synthetic fuels which would be competitive with natural petroleum," a Washington attorney said Wednesday.

Otis H. Ellis, general counsel for the National Oil Jobbers Council, addressed the 300 persons attending the 33rd annual convention of the Nebraska Petroleum Marketers, Inc.

He claimed the coal industry spends a "piddling" amount for research compared to the $100 million spent yearly by the oil industry and added that the coal industry spent more money "wringing" with John L. Lewis than it has on research.

Ellis praised Sen. Hugh Butler and Rep. Carl Curtis, Nebraska Republicans, for their efforts in introducing legislation to exempt hot tractor fuel from federal taxation. Another provision of the bill, he said, will even excuse the farmer from having to fill out exemption certificates.

He said that legislation had an "excellent" chance of passage at the next session of Congress.

Operating costs and lack of expansion financing are the major compelling factors, he added.

The small business administration, he charged, in its five months of life has done nothing "but fumble around." He considered SBA "a crumb thrown to the small business men but not used by them."

He said the 6 per cent rate set by SBA on loans is the same as top bank rates.

TV Hearing Held

Hearing was held Wednesday on a proposed regulation of the state fire marshal which would standardize installation of TV antennas. There was little objection to the regulation except a provision providing that those presently improperly installed be corrected by spring.

Small business has been compelled to remain static while the rest of the economy is going forward, he said. High taxes and received from the Internal Revenue Department.

Earlier Wednesday, Ellis said small business men are about ready to write off the Eisenhower administration as a "dud."

Biz-Business

"The small business men of this country are now pretty well convinced this administration is big-business minded," Ellis said, noting he had gained that impression from small operators across the country.

Ellis contended that small business has seen the administration "fudge over" the line between small and big business in favor of the latter.

Small business has been compelled to remain static while the rest of the economy is going forward, he said. High taxes and

NU Roscoe Pound Lectures Able To Pay For Self

The Roscoe Pound lectureship committee of the Nebraska State Bar Association reports that the fund is now of sufficient amount so that the income will pay for the annual lectures.

The committee will recom-mend to the annual meeting, that the State Bar Association "discontinue paying the expenses of the lectures held at the Uni-versity of Nebraska in honor of Dean Roscoe Pound." The lec-tures "would be paid by the in-come from the fund."

Bar association members were urged by the committee to re-mem-ber that, although the fund was large enough to support the lectures "at least upon a basis of every other year," they should not lose sight of their goal but "individually continue their sup-port of the . . . fund in every possible way."

Members of the committee in-clude the following:
Earl Cline, chairman    Barton H. Kohns
E. O. Bolein    Perry W. Horton
Robert W. Devoe    Joseph T. Volava

GOP Chief Says Administration Accomplishments Lacked Political 'It'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Leonard W. Hall of the Republican National Committee said Wednesday night some of his party's troubles may stem from the fact that the Eisenhower administration's accomplishments so far lack political "it."

Commenting on GOP setbacks in Tuesday's elections in New Jersey, New York City and Virginia, Hall said in a recorded broadcast (NBC's Report From the White House):

"We have done many things in the nine months that Mr. Eisenhower has been in the office of President. We have cut expenditures. We have reduced the personnel in office. But those things aren't dramatic.

"They are—well, they aren't things that have political 'it' if I can put it that way, but they are basic to recover what we call the American way of life.

People Will Feel

McCarthy For 'McCarthyism'

NEW YORK (INS) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) warned the Republican Party Wednesday that it must not "duck" the issue of "McCarthyism" if it is to stay in power.

He pointed out that Robert Morris, counsel to a number of Senate committees probing Communism and espionage, was the only Republican judge to be elected in 10 contested judicial posts in New York City elections Tuesday.

McCarthy said Morris, who won by almost 3 to 1 plurality, was the only man whose campaign was pitched on "the McCarthyism and Communism issue."

Completed by the Eisenhower administration.

Turning to next Tuesday's special congressional election in California, Hall said:

"We are in trouble." He went on to say that two Democrats are running against two Republicans in the West Coast contest, but said one of the Democrats is not making any campaign "so that actually we have two Republicans running against one Democrat — that makes the situation very tough."

Tammany Hall Alive Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Tammany Hall, given up for dead in two previous city elections, was alive and kicking again Wednesday, thanks to Robert F. Wagner Jr.'s smashing mayoral victory.

"This is the day for which all of us have been working and waiting," said Tammany leader Carmine Desapio at the news that Wagner piled up a 369,000 plurality over his nearest opponent.

Dixie Uncertain

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Democratic successes in key elections enveloped the political paths of pro-Eisenhower Southern governors in a haze of uncertainty Wednesday.

Down-the-line Democrats at the conference of Southern governors posed the question whether their colleagues who "like Ike" may weaken their allegiance as an outcome of Tuesday's balloting.

Democratic governors who stayed with the national ticket in 1952 saluted Tuesday's election results as a definite swing back to their party. They viewed it, too, as a protest against administration policies, if not against President Eisenhower personally, and an omen of Democratic control of Congress after the 1954 election.

The Southern executives brought their annual conferences to an end Wednesday by electing Gov. Johnston Murray of Oklahoma their new chairman.

Emmett Coleman, 61, Salesman, Dies

Emmett E. Coleman, 61, of 642 So. 45th, died Wednesday. Mr. Coleman, a salesman, was a member of Grace Lutheran Church.

Surviving are his wife, Gladys; one daughter, Mrs. Jean Peterson of Lincoln; one son, Harold of Lincoln; two brothers, Roscoe of San Diego, Calif., and Thomas of Chicago; and four grandchildren.

The school held annually is accredited by the National Council of Churches.

"These are serious days and we've all got to wake up to some very unpleasant facts"

"World War III can start any day, any hour, without notice and without warning. And if it starts, it'll start with a bang. Our government tells us that the Russians can bomb 89 U. S. cities in a single blow. I've seen the Air Force maps, and fully realize the danger. And don't forget, with atomic bombs it is now possible to drop more destructive power in ONE BOMBING MISSION than was dropped on all Japan and all Germany in all the years of the last war.

"As farmers, you may feel safe from destruction. But in your heart you know that everyone in this country, whether farmer or city-dweller, is mutually dependent. Think what would happen to the market for your produce, if our cities were bombed! Think what would happen to your light and power! Think what would happen to your farm machinery if our factories were destroyed by bombs. As a farmer, you are no safer than anyone else.

"Sure, the situation is grim. That's why our Air Force Fighter interceptors and our Army Anti-Aircraft units are on the alert twenty-four hours a day to stop any bombers that might try to sneak under our radar defenses. They are doing a great job, but they need help—your help. Join the Ground Observer Corps.

"Your eyes and ears can help spot hostile bombers if they come. When you've spotted them, the Air Force will meet them with blazing guns. I know, because I've seen those boys fly. So, don't let them down. Don't let your country down. Volunteer to serve two hours a week in the Ground Observer Corps. If the Russians do come, we'll be ready for them. Better still, if we're ready for them, maybe the Russians won't come. Think it over, friends, then do something about it."

Bayard Man Tops State Wheat Show

Ramig Is Grand Champion

CHADRON, Neb. (AP)—C. J. Ramig, Bayard, Neb., Wednesday was named grand champion of the Nebraska Wheat Show.

His entry of Cheyenne wheat, testing 64.0 pounds, was selected from a record number of 529 grain samples.

The reserve champion was Fred Elmquist, Potter, who had Cheyenne Certified wheat testing 64.8 pounds. Another record was set in the 21 Wheat Queen candidates.

Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, was grounded in Chadron by weather conditions and unable to reach Chadron where he was to have been the main speaker at the Wheat Show Wednesday night.

Nebraska's Senator Dwight Griswold attended the Chadron event and spoke briefly.

In open class judging, winners in the top ten exhibitors by sections were: Western, Ramig; Central, Allen Farm, Wilcox;

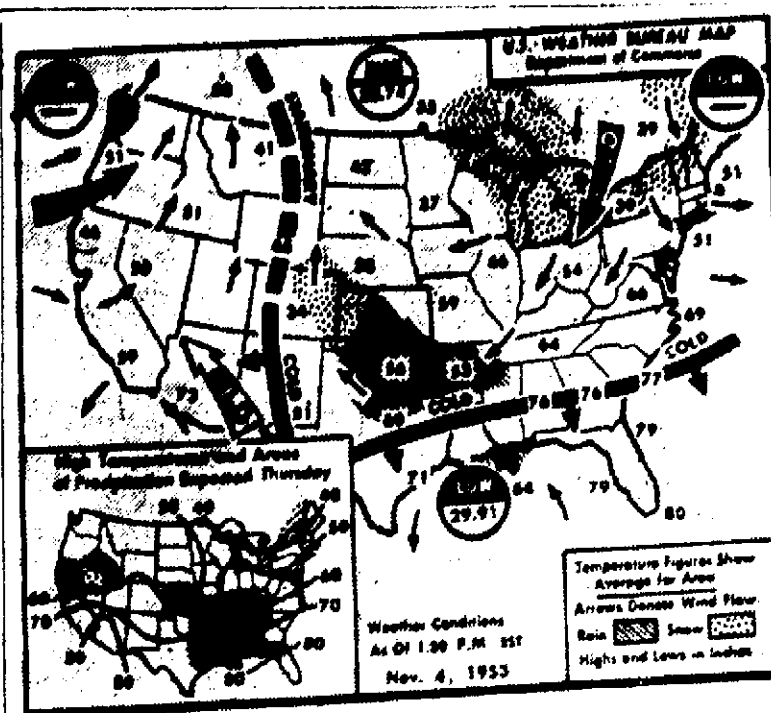

Eastern, Walt Kriesel, Gladstone. Market wheat: Western, Ramig; Central, John Back, McCook; eastern, Kriesel.

Two-Day Gideon Rally Scheduled At Falls City

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—Gideons from several Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas cities will join those in Richardson County for a rally here Saturday and Sunday.

Gideon camps at Nebraska City, Lincoln, Omaha, Norfolk, Holdrege and Henderson, Neb.; St. Joseph, Mo., and Manhattan, Kan., have been invited.

Weather Will Be Varied Over Nation

Cloudy weather will cover most of the southern states Thursday, with rain forecast for the lower Mississippi valley and central Gulf states. Snow flurries are expected in northern Maine, upper New York and in Nevada. Some rain is slated for northern California and southern Idaho. It will be colder in most of the eastern states. (AP Wirephoto Map Wednesday Night.)

McCook Corn Said Worst In 10 Years

MCCOOK, Neb. (AP)—Red Willow County's 1953 corn crop, now at least 80 per cent harvested, may possibly be the worst in 10 years, according to S. E. Swanson, of the Production and Marketing Administration.

Too much heat and not enough water were given as principal reasons for poor production by Swanson, office manager for the PMA here, in addition, he reported that root worms took their toll of the crop in some bottomland areas.

Rainfall Reports

Scattered rain has been reported across the southern half of the state. Superior received the greatest share with a total of 1.28 inches.

Communities reporting rainfall as listed by the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the U.S. Weather Bureau included:

PMA Will Query Corn Producers

Corn producers in the 63 Nebraska counties which have been declared commercial corn areas will soon be asked to contribute to the mountain of information needed in the establishment of possible corn allotments.

The state office of the Production and Marketing Administration announced Wednesday that PMA fieldmen over the state have begun the task of gathering the information. County and community PMA personnel will query the operators of some 120,000 farms regarding the individual farm history of corn acreage over the last three year period.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has until Feb. 1, 1954, to announce the allotments. The announcement, however, is expected to follow the November or December estimate of corn production.

Dear Clark:
In view of the many occasions on which we discussed the ambition of your association with us in preparation for the event, it hardly seems believable that not only did you achieve that aspiration, but that on November 5th you will celebrate your second anniversary.
Clark, we congratulate you upon the way in which you have so carefully and conscientiously carried out the very worthwhile and honorable program which you decided upon for yourself. It is likewise our opinion you have exercised excellent judgment in the selection of your business associates. They are fine, high class people, with whom it has been a pleasure for us to become acquainted and we think they will make the same nice impression upon those who visit your store as they have made upon us. Having them come over to DeKalb and spend some time in the factory was a good idea on your part. They now know how Wurlitzer pianos are made, what kind of materials they are made of and the kind of people who work with us. This should prove a big advantage to your customers, as well as themselves, and to you.
My goodness! That was a splendid First Anniversary Celebration! You held last year. You had so many people visit your store and, with all the beautiful flowers, so many beautiful pianos, and beautiful music it was an inspiration. Of course, some of us will be out to see you next Thursday for your Second Anniversary Celebration, and we are looking forward with pleasure toward seeing you at that time.
With kindest regards to all of you from all of us, and wishing you continued success in the development of your further aspirations in the same high class way as that which has characterized your efforts heretofore, we are Yours sincerely,

GOP Team Falling Apart—Boyle; Sporadic Performance—Crosby

By the Associated Press
Nebraska Republicans and Democrats disagreed Wednesday over whether results of eastern elections, won mostly by the Democrats, cast a shadow over the coming 1954 Congressional elections.

Four leading Nebraska—two Republicans and two Democrats—were asked by the Associated Press to comment on the GOP losing out in New Jersey and the Democrats holding control in New York City and Virginia. Political observers had seen these as the key contests.

"The great Republican team that was pictured to the American voters in 1952 has apparently fallen to pieces in the first quarter," said Bernard J. Boyle, Omaha Democratic national committeeman. "There is no quarterbacking."

But, Gov. Robert Crosby called it "the usual off-year sporadic performance." He also disagreed with Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall that "we are in trouble," declaring "the Republican Party is not in trouble."

William Meier of Minden, Nebraska Democratic chairman, called the results "very fine" and said "I'm very pleased."

A. V. Shotwell of Omaha, GOP national committeeman, said he "would have preferred it the results the other way." However, he said he didn't know enough about local conditions where the elections were held to comment fully.

David Martin of Kearney, Republican state chairman, was out of town and unavailable for comment.

"The election results of Nov. 3 are proof of the old adage that a 'promise made is a debt unpaid,'" Boyle said. "The Republicans have defaulted on their promise and the electorate foreclosed."

Boyle said he believed the election results were indicative of the fact that coming events "cast their shadows." He claimed to be "particularly impressed" with the outcome of the New Jersey Congressional election, noting that local elections more often are based on the man rather than the principle.

He contended in national elections, such as a congressman seeking election on national issues, the outcome is "indicative of the reception of voters to the Eisenhower program."

"Eisenhower himself personally appealed to New Jersey voters to elect a Republican governor and 'congressman and was definitely rejected,'" Boyle said.

"It is my experience that city elections turn on issues which have no relation to what we think of as Republican Party position versus a Democratic position."

As for the Congressional election, the governor admitted he "didn't know what the answer might be there."

The governor voiced the opinion that the Democrats have made no substantial gains in Nebraska, adding: "Nebraska is still a solid GOP state."

On that point, Meier disagreed. He thinks the eastern elections will "encourage Democrats in Nebraska."

Meier said he listened to the radio late Tuesday night to follow the results.

"They (the results) established a trend," Meier said. "They indicate that sentiment of all the people, both rural and metropolitan, is that they've had enough of the change."

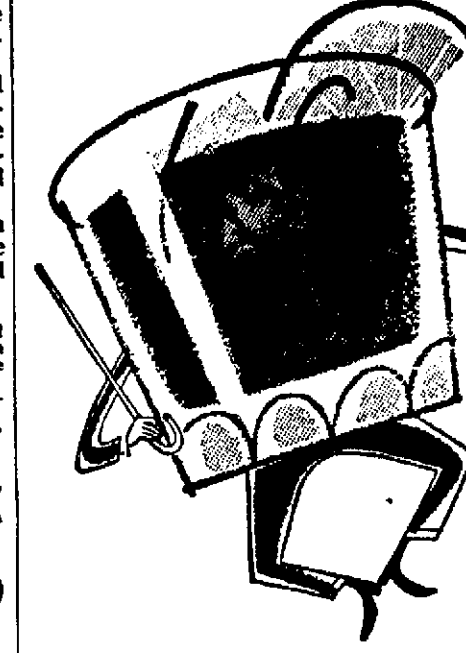

Like Boyle, he expressed keen interest in the outcome of the New Jersey gubernatorial and congressional elections.

Only 12 Counties Have Qualified Engineers, Declares Ress

Only about a dozen of Nebraska's 93 counties have men qualified by experience or education to do the work of a county highway engineer, L. N. Ress, state engineer, told the Southeast County Officials Association here Wednesday.

He made the comment in connection with pointing out the failure of Nebraska counties to use federal aid funds for construction of secondary roads. Ress said that while Nebraska counties had matched less than one million dollars of the fund so far this year, Kansas counties had matched to provide $7,500,000 worth of secondary road construction.

He explained that he believed the reluctance of Nebraska counties to match funds is because of lack of engineers and an attitude that all county and township roads should be improved equally.

Iowa Better Off

Ress told the officials that every county in Iowa has a trained highway engineer some of whom receive salaries larger than the state engineer in Nebraska. He pointed out that lack of an engineer should not halt counties getting matching funds, because federal funds are available to pay half of the cost of plan preparation if the county hires a qualified consulting engineer.

"Many Nebraska citizens and officials," Ress said, "have the attitude that no work besides spreading gravel should be done on the county road carrying 250, or more, vehicles per day until every road serving only a single family has a coat of gravel on it."

"The main county roads are becoming the most dangerous in Nebraska as a result of this policy," he continued. "He pointed out that, during the first 10 months of 1953, 28 per cent of the fatal motor vehicle accidents occurred on county and township roads, carrying only 20 per cent of the traffic."

Times Changed

"As market centers have developed, larger and larger volumes of traffic have been drawn to the principle county roads," Ress said. "Yet the condition of these main arteries, by and large, is the same as on all other section-line roads laid out in the horse and buggy days," the engineer declared.

The highway department official said, "Right-angle corners, sharp curves and steep hills didn't pose much of a problem for Old Dobbin because he could hear another wagon coming, even if the driver couldn't. But you must be able to see ahead, you can't rely on hearing an approaching vehicle when you're traveling at high speed in a closed car with the radio on." Ress said that the routes for which Federal-Aid Secondary funds are available are the most important county roads.

For the 14 counties in the southeast Nebraska association, Ress compared the amounts of Federal-Aid Secondary funds allotted for the coming year, the average yearly amount of county funds matched with federal funds in the eight-year period since 1946 and the amount of county funds matched with federal funds in 1953.

New System

Ress Wednesday announced a system of allocating to counties $1,684,850 of the $3,369,779 in federal funds available for secondary roads in Nebraska last July 1.

These funds will be available for matching by the counties until Jan. 1, 1955.

Every county in the state has roads designated as secondary roads eligible for this type of matching aid.

The allocation system is based on four equal factors. The shares were determined by the ratio of each county to the state as a whole in square miles, rural population, motor vehicle registration and value of farm products.

Lancaster's Share

Following this formula, Lancaster County gets approximately 3.7 per cent of the total allotment of $62,053.

The county has an area of 845 square miles, a 1950 rural population of 18,145, a 1952 motor registration of 49,871, and about $9,415,000 traded in farm products. When these amounts are compared mathematically with other counties, Lancaster County is assigned 3.6829 per cent of the total distribution.

Under this system the high allotment of $100,765 went to Douglas County and the low allotment of $5,189 to Hooker County.

Ress said that of the $3,068,485 in secondary funds available to Nebraska since 1951, not included in the allocation system and scheduled to lapse June 30, 1954, if not matched, only about $341,000 has been obligated.

Funds allocated to each county under the new system are:

Clarks Woman A Freshman At NU After 47-Year Wait

Mrs. Fern A. Beardsley of a well-educated man with a Mas-Clarks, Neb., who waited 47 years for her chance to attend college. His education gave her a great deal of pleasure and is having the time of her life. I made up my mind to obtain a little of that pleasure."

Mrs. Beardsley said she has to study pretty hard and she feels that she's doing about average work.

Gerunds Puzzler

The English entrance exams, Mrs. Beardsley said, "didn't seem so difficult. In fact, I had no trouble at all until they asked about gerunds. I'd forgotten there are such things."

Whether she'll complete four years of college, Mrs. Beardsley said, depends on her health and whether she continues to get as much enjoyment out of her studies as she does now.

If she gets a degree, Mrs. Beardsley thinks it will be a Bachelor of Arts with a major in English, "for no particular reason, except I want to get better acquainted with great writers."

Mrs. Beardsley said she was "uneasy at first, attending classes with 18-year-olds, and the other students shied away from me." "But that's over now," she said with a smile. "They treat me like a fellow student."

Betrothal Announced

MISS MARILYN JEAN AKESON

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Akeson of Weeping Water are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn Jean, to William C. Buskirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Buskirk of Barstow, Calif.

A former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University and the University of Nebraska, Miss Akeson is a graduate of Lincoln General Hospital School of Nursing, where she is at present a member of the nursing education staff.

Mr. Buskirk is attending the University of Nebraska and is a member of Theta Nu and Gamma Lambda fraternities. The wedding will be an event of Dec. 20.

HAD NO idea that November would have such a build-up, socially speaking. The days at hand are filled with a variety of interesting events, and a look into the future assures us that there are to be no dull moments anywhere along the line—So—nothing to worry about now until the post-holiday period—and maybe not even then—

This morning's news is generously dotted with news of brides-to-be, but it also contains a word or two about guests—a birthday celebration—some week-end game travelers and, of course, plans for the homecoming week-end.

SPEAKING of the approaching week-end and the game at Iowa State—Understand that Mr. and Mrs. William Mowbray and Mr. and Mrs. Adna Dotson will go to Ames where they will be the house guests of Mrs. Dobson's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. John Myers. Mr. and Mrs. Mowbray and Mr. Dobson will return home Sunday or Monday, but Mrs. Dobson, so we hear, plans to remain in Ames until mid-week.

TODAY IS the day that Mrs. James Ackerman is to be a luncheon hostess at the University club when she compliments Mrs. Harry Klahn of St. Johnsbury, Vt., who—with Dr. Klahn—is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Olson. Mrs. Ackerman's guest list will include members of her bridge club.

Learned that Dr. and Mrs. Klahn will go to Hebron this week-end for a visit with Dr. Klahn's parents—and later will spend a few days with Mrs. Klahn's family in Nebraska City—However, the visitors from Vermont will be back in Lincoln for the homecoming game with Colorado.

AND MENTION of the homecoming game reminds us that Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Parker (Kay Hendy) will make their annual pilgrimage from Tulsa, Okla., for the Colorado-Nebraska game. And, as usual, Mr. and Mrs. Parker will be host and hostess to a group of their Lincoln friends on Friday evening. On Saturday the Parkers will be honored at luncheon at the University club when Mr. and Mrs. John Ames, Mr. and Mrs. George Holyoke and Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Smith are hosts and hostesses—and on Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Parker will be guests at the Monday Night club dinner dance.

BUT ALL of that is just a sample of the future we mentioned a few paragraphs back. In the more immediate period—the current week, for instance, we find other matters of interest—such as the more or less no host picnic that is planned for Saturday evening—There doesn't seem to be any special host or hostess—but we understand that Ray Frantz and Mr. and Mrs. John Ames are more or less at the arrangements helm.

THE BIRTHDAY celebration we had in mind involves two celebrants—Arthur S. Raymond and Mrs. Donald W. Miller, both of whom have birthday anniversaries on Nov. 4. Mrs. Raymond and Mrs. Miller shared honors at a birthday party—a dinner—for which Mrs. Ruth Raymond Gavin was hostess at her home.

APROPOS of Birthdays—Hear that young Brad Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clarke, will be five years old next Tuesday, and that his grandmother, Mrs. Jasper Clarke, will be a family dinner hostess on Tuesday evening to celebrate the occasion.

AND NOW for our brides-to-be—Miss Harriet Ackerson, whose marriage to James V. Fottmell Jr. of Alliance will be solemnized on Saturday, Nov. 28, has an exceedingly busy party schedule these days—Last Tuesday evening Miss Ackerson was an honoree when Miss Patricia Haythorne and Mrs. James Thomas (Carman Eoyer) entertained at a 7:30 o'clock dessert supper at the home of Mrs. Thomas. Twenty-three guests, all of whom will be assisting at Miss Ackerson's wedding reception, were invited for the supper after which the bride-elect was presented with a kitchen shower.

THIS evening (Thursday) Prof. and Mrs. Herbert Davis will honor Miss Ackerson when they entertain at a family dinner at their home, and on Thursday, Nov. 10, Miss Ackerson will be complimented when Mrs. E. G. Mohler and her daughter, Miss Jo Ann Mohler entertain at a mother-daughter dessert supper at their home. Twenty guests have been invited for the supper and a miscellaneous shower for the soon-to-be bride.

NEXT WEEK'S calendar includes numerous courtesies for other brides-elect, also—Next Tuesday evening, for instance, Miss Susanne Adams and Miss Nancy Hawkins will be hostesses at a dessert supper and personal shower at Hotel Cornhusker when they honor Miss Jane Madden of Omaha, whose marriage to LeRoy Crosby will take place on Dec. 19. The guest list will include Kappa Kappa Gamma sisters of Miss Madden.

AND ON Wednesday evening of next week Mrs. Harold Anderson (Marian Battey) will honor Miss Adele Corryell, whose marriage to Donald Hall of Kansas City takes place on Nov. 28, when she entertains at a 7:30 o'clock dessert supper at the home of her mother, Mrs. Wheaton Battey.

LEARNED, TOO, that when Mrs. Lloyd E. Graham entertained at her home on last Monday evening, it was to honor Miss Elizabeth Stoesz who is to marry Donald Wickham on Dec. 5. Mrs. Graham invited 30 guests for an informal evening and a miscellaneous shower for the soon-to-be bride.

BUT BACK to the homecoming week-end for a moment or two—Hear that Mr. and Mrs. John Dudgeon are expecting house guests for that Friday-to-Monday period, and while all acceptances are not in, we understand that Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Fleming of Norfolk will be here for sure. Anyway, Mr. and Mrs. Dudgeon will entertain at a pre-game luncheon at their home complementing their guests, and also will be a host and hostess at the Lincoln Country Club's dinner dance on Saturday evening.

SOMEONE told us that Mrs. Spray Gardner will return to her home in Omaha tomorrow after spending a few days as the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wardner Scott.

AND HAD you heard that the Pestors—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene, and their family—are leaving Lincoln? Around about Jan. 1 they will be moving to Rapid City, S.D.

SOMEONE told us that Mr. and Mrs. Paul Halpine are expected home the forepart of next week from California where they have been spending the past several weeks—Mr. and Mrs. Halpine went first to San Francisco from where they trekked to other interesting California points.

Guest To Be Honored

Mrs. Claudine Mason of Evanston, Ill., will be honored Thursday morning when the active and alumnae members of Chi Omega entertain at a coffee to be held at the chapter house.

Mrs. Mason, who is a member of Chi Omega sorority, is the dean of women at Northwestern University and arrived in Lincoln on Wednesday to be the featured speaker at the annual Panhellenic banquet held Wednesday evening at the Student Union.

On Wednesday noon, Mrs. Mason was the luncheon guest of Miss Marjorie Johnston, dean of women at the University of Nebraska.

Ceremony At Fremont

Miss Shirley Ann Loftis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Loftis of Arlington, became the bride of LaVerne O. Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schmidt, also of Arlington, on Friday evening, Oct. 2. The church of the Congregational Church at Fremont was appointed with fan-shaped arrangements of gladioli for the ceremony which was solemnized by the Rev. Charles R. Lichte in the presence of 500 guests.

Preceding the service, Eugene Loftis of Yankton, S. D., sang "At Dawning," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer." He was accompanied by Mrs. Charles House, organist, who also played the wedding music.

Mrs. Eleanor Sullivan of Omaha, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor and wore a waltz-length frock of orchid net over taffeta and carried a nosegay of yellow pom-pom chrysanthemums. Costumed identically were the maid of honor, Miss Iva Mae Loftis of Arlington, sister of the bride, wearing lime green taffeta and net, and the bridesmaids, Miss Iva Petersen and Miss Joan Petersen of Kennard, in pink and yellow net and taffeta, who carried chrysanthemums to contrast with their ensembles. Wearing white net and taffeta was the flower girl, Miss Suzanne Trotter of Fremont.

Melvin Schmidt served his brother as best man, and the ushers were LeRoy Hass, Jim Marshall and Larry Nelson of Arlington. Terry Loftis of Pender was ringbearer.

The bride wore for her wedding a strapless gown of white satin accented by a bolero jacket of white Chantilly-type lace. Beneath the fitted bodice, the skirt flared into fullness and was completed at the back by a lace panel which tapered into a train. A bonnet brim of lace over satin held her veil of illusion, and she carried a white Bible ornamented with a cluster of red roses. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

A reception was held in the Mayflower chapel of the church. For their wedding trip to Colorado, Mrs. Schmidt wore a beige wool suit with a yellow topper and brown accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt will make their home in Arlington.

ESA Sorority Holds Dinner

Members of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, business women's sorority, met for dinner Monday evening at the Hotel Cornhusker to open their month-long drive for aid for victims of muscular dystrophy, a national campaign. Young patients in Lincoln and their parents were special guests at the program.

Miss Ione Rischling was the mistress of ceremonies, and included among the speakers were Scotty G. Harris, who recently attended a meeting of the National Muscular Dystrophy organization in the east; Miss Alice Heiker of Omaha, a member of the advisory board of the Nebraska chapter; and Mrs. Sam Dahl, who represented the parents.

Following the program, a ceremony was held for new members of the sorority including pledges, Miss Beth McCree, Alpha Theta Chapter; Miss Katie Crawford, Miss LaVonne Heideman, Miss Marge Gossman and Miss Patricia Deinet, Zeta Alpha Chapter; and Miss Della Lohmeier, Miss Carle Pint and Miss Arlene Pint, Alpha Lambda Chapter.

Receiving their jeweled pins were Miss Dolores Mailan, Miss Esther Mussmann and Miss Elvaine Simacek, Alpha Theta Chapter; and Miss Bernita Bachmann, Miss Marylu Olson, Miss Marianne Sabatka and Miss Glennis Widga, Zeta Alpha Chapter.

Yankee Doodle Group Program

The Yankee Doodle Society of Children of the American Revolution met at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Theo Deal. Presiding at the meeting was Miss Nancy Wright, junior president.

A talk on her recent European trip was given by Mrs. Harvey Swenson, and the group will adopt the program of Junior American Citizens, which has as its aim the instruction for children in principles of American government.

Wedding Anniversary Celebrated

In celebration of their 65th wedding anniversary Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Chambers were honored at a surprise dinner on Sunday evening at Cotner Terrace. The party was planned by Mr. and Mrs. Chambers' daughter, Mrs. I. D. Young of Wichita, Kan., and was attended by three generations of the family.

7 State Cities Told To Stop River Sewage Practice

Seven Nebraska cities have been notified formally by the State Health Department that they must stop discharge of untreated sewage and industrial wastes in the Missouri River. The cities are Niobrara, South Sioux City, Dakota City, Omaha, Bellevue, Plattsmouth and Nebraska City.

The municipalities have been given until June 30, 1954, to report to the department what measures they are taking to comply with the notice.

Wednesday's letter, signed by Dr. E. A. Rogers, acting State Health Director, did not come as any surprise. The cities have known ever since mid-September that such notice was coming. On Sept. 15 state sanitary engineers from South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa and Missouri met in Omaha to consider the problem of Missouri River pollution. They agreed at that time that all cities in their respective states which contribute to pollution of the river should be notified by November to take steps to clean up the stream. Dr. Rogers wrote: "The practice of discharging sewage into rivers has long been accepted because it was usually the only means by which a municipality or industry could dispose of wastes."

But with the growth of both population and industry, he declared, "the rivers are becoming so polluted and contaminated that they fail to meet necessary standards for use the streams are intended." The letter referred to a report of a study made of the Missouri in 1950 for information concerning the actual amount of contamination. "The conclusion of this report shows clearly that the Missouri River bordering our state is contaminated beyond all accepted standards for water serving as a supply for daily purposes," Dr. Rogers wrote.

Joost Named Manager Of A's In Surprise Move

Dumfounded Jim Dykes Offered 'Advisory' Job

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Shortstop Eddie Joost Wednesday was named the third field manager in the history of the Philadelphia Athletics in a move so surprising that Jim Dykes, who had been offered a "poor job" with the 1953 Athletics, and a change was necessary.

"We have a great deal of respect for Jimmy and hope he will remain with us in an advisory capacity," Mack said. He announced that Dykes will be asked to fill out the remaining year of his two year contract as a member of an advisory group consisting of Joost, Earle Mack, club vice president, and Dykes. This advisory board would make all decisions on player trades and club policy.

Asked why Dykes wasn't present at the press conference, Roy said Jimmy had been asked to meet with the club owners Wednesday but didn't show up. He added that Dykes had a noon speaking engagement and that may have kept him away. He admitted that Dykes knew nothing of the managerial switch.

Johnson said the loan has not been requested, and added: "I personally don't think it will be required, but it's there if the club needs it."

Lincoln obtained a $15,000 loan last year from the Western League to meet expenses, and recently completed payments in advance of the due date, Dec. 1.

The league president specified both Lincoln and Wichita, which already had requested an identical loan, must raise $25,000 from private sources before the league can grant the additional loans. The loans would be due Dec. 1, 1954.

Asked for what purpose Lincoln would request the loan, Johnson explained:

"When you're running a ball club, you can never tell what difficulties might arise. The loan would be used to cover emergency situations."

"I don't believe Lincoln will need the loan, however I think both Wichita and Lincoln are on strong financial footing, and have no doubt of their success in the league."

Michigan State cross country teams have won four NCAA team championships and seven NCAA titles.

Prexy Thinks Chiefs Won't Require Loan

DENVER (AP)—Sen. Ed C. Johnson, (D-Colo.) president of the Western League, said Wednesday the Lincoln Baseball club has "requested the privilege" of borrowing $15,000 from the league "to cover emergency situations."

Johnson said the loan has not been requested, and added: "I personally don't think it will be required, but it's there if the club needs it."

Dan'l O'Toole, the Western League umpire, attends Kearney College during the winter months. He will receive his degree in January.

When Dan'l reported to classes in September, he was scolded by Mrs. Bergquist, the well-liked, efficient school nurse and health tutor at the college.

Mrs. Bergquist, while attending a Western League game, Preacher Franklin at Sherman Field last summer, had noticed Dan'l spitting on a baseball and rubbing the scuffs out of the horseshoe. It's all part of an umpire's chores.

In a kidding vein, of course, Mrs. Bergquist pulled the sanitation clause on Dan'l, the unsanitary umpire.

Along with keeping O'Toole in line, the nurse also has the job of mending the bruises and cuts on Preacher Franklin's Antelope football team. Quite a gal.

Footnotes . . . It could happen here—Illinois versus Stanford in the Rose Bowl . . . Each team was tabbed no higher than fifth in the Pacific Coast and Big Ten circuits . . . Mickey McConnell, former Kearney High School and later one of Branch Rickey's right hand men at Brooklyn, is the promotional genius behind the Little Baseball League. Along with giving thousands of youngsters an early baseball start, Mickey foresees the Little League some day replacing the costly farm systems as a producer of future players.

If there are any additions to the board of directors of the Lincoln Baseball Club, we have three recommendations: Charles (Hungry) Simon, Jim Watson and Bishop Louis B. Kucera. Bill Hayes, former Sherman Field general manager, told The Firing Line that Bishop Kucera was "Lincoln's best baseball booster." These gentlemen have baseball in their blood and Sherman Field never saw three more staunch supporters.

The Chicago Cubs dropped over $40,000 in Des Moines last summer. Joost Signs As Philly A's Manager

Eddie Joost puts his pen to a contract as the new manager of the Philadelphia Athletics after his appointment was announced by the American League club Wednesday. Watching are Connie Mack, who guided the baseball destinies of the Athletics for 50 years, and Mack's son, Roy. Joost replaces Jimmy Dykes, who in turn succeeded the elder Mack in the front office. ## Moore's Blast At Football Is Praised

By HERB ALTSCHULL
WASHINGTON (AP)—An official of the American Council on Education said Wednesday he regards the NCAA president's blast at "skulduggery" in football as a major stride toward "sweeping the rascals out of college football."

The council, which represents all the major colleges in the country, adopted a code last year calling for a general de-emphasis of football. It asked the NCAA to help police a de-emphasis program.

Raymond A. Howes, secretary of a special committee of 11 college presidents which made the recommendations, said he was heartened by the speech this week of Dr. A. B. Moore, NCAA president, calling on college football to rid itself of "hypocrisy, skulduggery and cheating."

"It is a very hopeful thing to have the head of the NCAA taking that attitude," Howes said. "It indicates they're going into this thing more energetically, that's all to the good."

Howes said Moore's speech could lead the way to a vigorous program of cleaning up unsavory practices.

But, the council official said, "We realize that we can't go into this thing now and expect a miracle overnight. We're convinced a very considerable number of institutions have moved in the right direction."

In its proposed code, the council called attention to "pressures, both external and internal," which is said to lead to an over-emphasis on football as a part of college life.

Howes said "it is obvious that our recommendations have not been accepted 100 per cent all over the country."

But, he added, "We didn't expect any overnight revolution in football. You have to go about these things in an orderly way. You can't change black to white or grey to white in one season."

Hitters Get Break As Balk Rule Gives Option To Batter

NEW YORK (AP)—The hitters got another break from the baseball rules committee Wednesday when the balk rule was changed.

Under the new rule, the offensive team will have an option of taking the balk called on the pitcher or the result of the batter's swing—possibly a home run.

Often a pitcher continues his delivery and throws to the plate, even when an umpire has yelled, "balk."

In the past, it was possible for a batter to hit a home run under such circumstances, and have the hit nullified by the umpire's "balk" call. It was mandatory that the base runners advance one base and the batter resume his place at the plate.

Now a batter who might hit the "balk" pitch into the left field stands, could elect to accept the home run. It compares roughly with the football rule that permits an offensive team against the defense team on a play that led to a touchdown. Naturally, they forget the penalty and take the gain.

Baseball has two other similar "option" rules, borrowed from football. They permit a batter to decline a penalty for catcher's interference or a "quick pitch" by the pitcher. These two rules have been in the book previously.

Four other minor changes were made as the committee finished its three-day session at the office of Commissioner Ford Frick. There are three members each from the American, National and minor leagues with James Gallagher of the Chicago Cubs acting as chairman.

One change in the rule on defensive interference required a liberal interpretation. The rule makers pointed out that a first baseman like Ferris Fain might charge the batter on a bunt play and actually grab the ball before it got to the plate, thus breaking up a squeeze play.

To prevent any such shenanigans, the rule was broadened to make it possible for any defensive player, not the catcher alone, to be guilty of interference with a batter's fair chance of hitting the ball.

Bill Argues NU 7-Point Nod Over IS

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

Those foolhardy pointmakers, who are usually accurate except when dealing with Nebraska, have tabbed the Cornhuskers as a seven-point favorite over Iowa State at Ames Saturday.

Coach Bill Glassford of the Scarlet, a man who would rather be the underdog, disputes the odds.

"Iowa State has a very fine team and is always doubly tough at Ames," snorted Glassford. "There is no reason for favoring anyone in this game."

Abe Stuber's Cyclones haven't topped the Huskers at Ames since 1945, but the last three meetings have seen Iowa State decisively outdo Nebraska in everything except the final score. Nebraska squeezed through by 14-7 in 1947, 7-0 in 1949 and 34-27 in 1951.

For All-America Hopetuls: Go To College With Fair Team

COLLEGE PARK Md. (AP)—Here's a bit of advice for high school football stars. If you want to be All-America, go to a college with only a fair team.

That's what you're more likely to be a standout.

At least that's Coach Jim Tatum's version of why you don't find Maryland players shining all over the place as individuals.

"On a winning team, everybody is pretty good and one player doesn't have to do everything," he said Wednesday. "On a fair team, you'll find a player or two so much better than the rest that they have to carry the load and so are noticed more."

Maryland is one of the winning teams again, seven in a row and No. 2 in the nation. Even Quarterback Bernie Faloney, all All-America candidate from the first play of the season doesn't get much chance to show off.

But one All-America should recognize another, and Bob Ward says Jones is. Ward was All-America guard twice for Maryland, 1950 and 1951. Now he's coaching Jones and the rest of the Maryland line.

"He is the greatest blocker in America," says Ward about the 240-pound Jones. "Of all the boys I have seen play in past years, he is the greatest."

"When he puts his mind to it, on one can stop him, and he has been putting his mind to it," says Coach Tatum.

Jones had Coach Tatum worried before the season started. The big tackle had played offense only for his first two seasons and admitted he didn't like the idea of defense. And at first it showed.

"But he's only human," said Tatum, "and nobody does anything well he doesn't like. Now that he's found he can do it, he likes it."

Kitzelman Hurt

Guard Max Kitzelman of the Huskers may be out of the game Saturday.

The 230-pound junior line mainstay suffered an ankle sprain during the Wednesday scrimmage and spent the night in the student health center.

"His injury is hard to immediately evaluate," commented Dr. Sam Fuenning of the university. "We will know the full extent of the injury after an examination Thursday. Right now, we can't say whether he can play against Iowa State or not."

Along with this bad news, there was a brighter hue with announcement that Center Bob Berlin, previously hobbled by a strained ankle, would be available for full-scale duty Saturday.

Speech Clarified

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Dr. A. B. Moore, president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, issued a statement Wednesday clarifying his position on college football, which he said had been misinterpreted from accounts of his talk at Talladega, Ala., Monday night.

Moore, dean of the graduate school and faculty chairman of athletics at the University of Alabama, said he did "not advocate abolishing football or any other intercollegiate sport. I did plead for maintaining intercollegiate sports on a high plane of honesty and integrity."

Moore was quoted in the Talladega speech as saying college football should be abolished "root and branch" unless it is cleansed of hypocrisy, skulduggery and cheating.

Moore, in Wednesday's statement, said he "did not implicate college officials in connection with cheating and I did not say or imply that all parents advised their sons to attend the college some of whose alumni offered them the most."

"I did say that secret aid by alumni and friends was setting the wrong example before youth and that it tended to corrupt youth."

Moore was quoted from Talladega as saying parents tell their sons "go to the school that will pay you the most."

He emphasized Wednesday that he did not imply all parents had such attitudes, or that all alumni were engaged in "under the table" activities.

Alvo Spoils Sterling String With 38-13 Win

Lincoln Star Special
ALVO—Halfback Dick Clark completed his high school football career here "Wednesday afternoon with a fine touchdown performance which sparked the Orioles to a 38-13 triumph over previously unbeaten Sterling."

Clark ran 50 yards in the first quarter when Alvo was trailing, 6-13. He passed to Jim Hermance for the tying score in the second period and started the rout of the Maroons a few minutes later on a 14 yard run.

Andrews Wins Split Decision

DETROIT (AP) — Tireless Al Andrews, a 3 to 1 underdog, landed just enough right hands to score a narrow split 10-round decision over Chuck Davey in Olympia Stadium Wednesday night.

Davey weighed 149½, Andrews 151.

It was the second time in seven weeks that Andrews, 23-year-old newcomer from Superior, Wis., scored a 10-round decision over Davey, who trained hard and long to gain revenge. He beat Davey Sept. 14 in Saginaw, Mich., by a unanimous decision.

Davey fired a flock of punches but they didn't carry too much steam. Many of them missed.

Andrews' blows didn't carry too much authority but several landed flush on Davey's shoulders.

The two judges—Bill Appleton and Joe Lenahan—voted for Andrews, the ex-Fifth Army boxing champion. Appleton scored it 52-48 and Lenahan 51-49. Referee Morrie Sherman gave it to Davey 51-49.

The Associated Press scored it even, 50-50.

Roberts Top Big 7 All-America Hope

KANSAS CITY (AP)—J. D. Roberts, who is playing two-way football for the second straight year, suggests it might be wise for the king size fellows to get rid of a few pounds.

The Oklahoma Sooners' ace lineman carried at least 230 pounds on a 5 foot 10 inch frame last season when he was elected to the Associated Press' Big Seven Conference all star defensive team.

Roberts, a senior from Dallas, Tex., knocked off 20 pounds by fall practice time and it's paying off in his campaign for All-America honors. For the third straight week he's drawn praise from the Big Seven area All-America nomination board.

Standard Oil solves a major cause of engine stalling with remarkable DE-ICER additive!

Prove it with one tankful!

Don't blame your car when you stall
A thin film of ice does it!

Yes, ice, when it's 58° to 28° above zero is a major cause of engine stalling. Rapid evaporation of gasoline chills your carburetor below freezing. Chilled metal causes moisture in air to condense and freeze on carburetor parts. A thin film of ice forms on the carburetor throttle plate. Ice shuts off the flow of fuel during idling. Then, when you make a stop, your fuel-starved engine sputters and dies. New STANDARD WHITE CROWN Premium Gasoline contains a costly DE-ICER additive which prevents carburetor ice from forming.

Believe it or not, when your engine quits in traffic at this time of the year, chances are that ice does it. Yes, ice causes cold-motor stalling even on Indian Summer mornings! Carburetor ice! And this amazing fast-freeze is likely to occur when the temperature registers between 58° and 28° above zero!

For years motorists have mistakenly blamed their cars for this cold-motor stalling. Actually no mechanical carburetor adjustment can cure it. But now Standard scientists have solved it. New STANDARD WHITE CROWN Premium Gasoline contains a costly DE-ICER additive. This DE-ICER additive is a built-in anti-freeze that prevents the formation of a thin ice film. Ice that can cripple the action of your carburetor!

Here is fresh proof that you can expect more from Standard and get it. In addition to anti-stalling, Standard brings you a premium gas that is at the highest octane level in its history. And you can't buy a more powerful gasoline!

Your neighborly Standard Oil dealer—who is a member of the finest service team in the country—invites you to stop in today to get your car ready for Winter and to fill up with New STANDARD Premium. Now you can get the gasoline that does what no other gas will do—PREVENTS STALLING.

You expect more from STANDARD and get it!

1.3 Birds Average Daily Pheasant Bag

Field checks of almost 2,400 hunters during the opening week end of pheasant hunting in this state revealed an average daily bag per hunter of 1.3 pheasants. Nebraska conservation officers conducted the field interviews and checks.

The 1.3 bird average reported on the opening week end was slightly under that recorded for the same period in '52 when the average was 1.4 birds. Hunting time per bird bagged, however, increased considerably this year.

Midland Is Again A Power In Nebraska College Conference

It used to be a major Nebraska college accomplishment to knock off the Midland College Warriors.

That was back in the days when the famed "Little Giants" were running rampant over all comers, setting statistical records, and attracting nationwide attention to the Fremont school.

Then came the war years and an attendant slump in Warrior athletic affairs.

Now the slump is over, and tired of being the perennial Nebraska College Conference doormat, the Warriors have arisen as did the Warriors of old. Again it has become a major accomplishment to beat the Midlands.

That's exactly what Nebraska Wesleyan's hardluck Plainsmen will be up against Saturday night.

The Wesleyans of Coach Roy Robertson must travel to Fremont to face those resurgent Warriors who have risen under the able tutelage of Woody Greeno and Mark Haight in one of the most amazing comebacks in NCC history, to become just about the hottest club the loop has to offer.

If there were those skeptics who thought victories over Hastings and Wayne were flukes, the Midlands erased all doubts as they clubbed Chadron into humble submission last Friday night.

The Plainsmen could be at their best offensive strength in five games in the Midland franchise.

Not since 1941 have the Midlands tasted the sweet fruits of a defeat over their Lincoln foe. That year a 40-6 victory marked the end of a five year Midland domination period, and paved the way to a string of eight consecutive Wesleyan wins.

The Plainsmen now hold 18 victories in the old series which dates back to a 7-0 Wesleyan win in 1919. Midland has won six times. Five games were scoreless.

German, Dutchman Nobel Winners

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—A German chemist who did spade-work for the plastics industry and a Dutch physicist who invented a microscope that opens new views in the study of living matter were awarded the 1953 Nobel prizes in chemistry and physics Wednesday.

Dr. Hermann Staudinger, 72, of Freiburg, West Germany, whose research in giant molecules paved the way for industrial production of such synthetic commodities as nylon, hosiery, plastic plates and artificial rubber, won the $33,840 prize in chemistry.

Prof. Frits Zernike, 65, of Groningen, The Netherlands won the $33,840 physics prize for his development of a "phase contrast" microscope that—without the application of coloring substances—gives scientists a closer view of minute particles of living matter than they have ever had before.

Both persisted in their revolutionary work over the criticism of skeptical fellow scientists. The announcements complete the year's list of awards under the will of Alfred Nobel, the Swedish inventor of dynamite.

Other 1953 winners are Prime Minister Churchill of Britain, literature, Gen. George C. Marshall of the United States, peace, and Dr. Fritz A. Lipmann of Harvard Medical school, Cambridge, Mass., and Dr. Hans Adolph Krebs of Britain's Sheffield University, who share the prize for medicine and physiology.

Federal Purchase Of Millions Of Cattle Urged By Griswold

CHADRON, Neb. (AP) — Sen. Dwight Griswold (R-Neb) proposed Wednesday that the federal government buy outright two to three million head of cattle from the drought areas.

Griswold, speaking at the Nebraska Wheat Show, backed Secretary Benson in his reorganization of the Agriculture Department and declared:

"In my opinion, the government (agricultural) program in Washington will be very similar to what is in effect now."

He said "there is no finer student of American agriculture" than Benson.

The Nebraska senator said he feels some support could be given cattlemen by buying drought area surplus cattle and suggested the two to three million figure.

Griswold spoke in the place of Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, who was unable to reach here.

Aiken and Sen. Hugh Butler (R-Neb) were unable to fly here from Butler's farm in Cambridge because of snow in Southern Nebraska.

Acting Monarch Status Is Requested For Duke

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II asked Parliament Wednesday to make the Duke of Edinburgh acting monarch in case she dies within the next 13 years.

In a special message mentioning "the uncertainty of human life," the 27-year-old Queen said she wanted her blond Danish-Greek husband named prospective regent in place of her younger sister, vivacious Princess Margaret.

A court official said her motive was to insure that the Duke would control the education and upbringing of their son, Prince Charles, the heir-apparent — duties that fall to the regent Prince Charles will be 5 years old Nov. 14.

Increase Prestige

The proposal would knock out the present hereditary principle of the regency setup. It also would vastly increase the prestige of the Queen's husband.

A storm appeared certain to develop in the House of Commons on the issue. But ultimate approval seemed assured, probably before the Queen and the Duke leave on their Commonwealth tour Nov. 23.

It was not clear whether the debate would dredge up previous reports that the Queen wanted the change to make it easier for Margaret to marry a divorced man, RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend. A source close to the royal family said that romance, which bloomed last summer, since has died.

Changing the regency arrangement will give the 32-year-old Duke of Edinburgh a status more imposing than Prince Albert had in Queen Victoria's day.

Three Points

His elevation also will increase the prestige of the House of Mountbatten. Adm. Lord Mountbatten is the Duke's uncle.

The Queen's message recommended that

1. The Duke of Edinburgh become regent if she dies or becomes incapacitated any time before Prince Charles reaches 18, when he will be legally able to act in his own right.
2. Prince Charles become regent if she is incapacitated after he reaches 18.
3. Queen Mother Elizabeth become eligible to serve as a member of the council of state during the sovereign's absence abroad. Such counsellors can sign state documents and receive cabinet ministers and foreign diplomats, but cannot exercise such major powers as dissolving parliament or granting titles without the monarch's consent.

These changes can be carried out by amending the Regency Acts of 1937 and 1943.

They do not involve changes in the line of succession to the throne. Princess Margaret, 23, will remain third in line of succession after Prince Charles and Princess Anne, 3.

U.S. Announces New Policy For Unemployment Areas

WASHINGTON (INS) — The government announced Wednesday a broad new policy to create more jobs in unemployment areas and to reduce the danger that a single atomic attack might paralyze U. S. industry.

Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Flemming told a news conference that the government will set aside a certain percentage of its defense work for firms located in parts of the country where the labor supply exceeds demand.

In addition, he said, such firms will be awarded federal contracts in cases where their bids are as low as those submitted by companies in areas of full employment.

Flemming said the government will also provide special tax amortization privileges to firms that set up their defense facilities in regions suffering from unemployment.

However, he added that, to encourage dispersal of America's industrial strength so it will prepare a less inviting atomic target, privileges allowing a firm to stretch out its tax payments will be withheld from those that locate in congested urban areas.

On the other hand, tax amor-tization will be speeded up for plants which strengthen their civil defense facilities.

Under the Truman administration, the government had channeled defense contracts into unemployment areas by allowing plants to match the low bids received from other sections of the country.

Flemming said this policy—widely denounced in the South, where there has been little joblessness—was "unfair" but he promised what he called an "intensification of service" to those localities hit by unemployment, such as the New England states.

Duke Causes Flurry

LONDON (A) — The Duke of Edinburgh, a conservative dresser caused a flurry in sartorial circles Wednesday by wearing a white tie with striped pants and a cutaway coat. Said George White, assistant editor of the Tailor and Cutter Magazine: "Most unusual and hardly to be taken seriously. The grey silk tie will continue to be worn."

White was right. A palace spokesman explained that the queen's husband had merely conformed to a local custom while visiting Edinburgh University.

Campbell Files Brief In Supreme Court Asking Auditorium Ruling Be Upheld

Clinton J. Campbell, Lincoln attorney, has filed a brief in the State Supreme Court as a "friend of the court" in the case of Myron D. Noble et al against the City of Lincoln et al, in which Campbell argues that the Lancaster District Court decision in the city auditorium case should be upheld.

The Lancaster Court decision denied Noble's petition seeking a "further relief" order to compel the city to begin construction of the auditorium at the 15th and N Street site provided in the original vote on the bond issue.

Noble et al appealed the case to the Supreme Court and the court overruled the city's demurrer.

Campbell, in his brief, contends that all the Supreme Court did was overrule the demurrer and that "no answer has been filed, no trial had, and no valid judgment entered."

"There has been a general impression, including that of city officers, that the Supreme Court passed upon the merits of the case as if an answer had been filed and evidence adduced, and the judgment on the mandate gave emphasis to the same conclusion . . . however, the case is pending," Campbell states.

Campbell asks that the Lancaster District Court decision on denial of the Noble petition be affirmed by the Supreme Court.

Campbell contends that the court was right in finding that the "City of Lincoln and members of the City Council have shown sufficient cause at this time to require that the petition of the plaintiffs for further relief against them should be denied."

Charles M. Sutherland and others intervened on the side of the city and now Campbell as a citizen has filed a brief of amicus curiae.

Unsung Hero Was Last Pilot To Die In Korea

Airman Wanted No Publicity

SEOUL (Thursday)—(INS)—The U. S. Air Force today told the story behind the unfinished flight schedule: "Rhoads—take-off—1530."

It is the story of the last American pilot to die in the Korean fighting.

Capt. Jack Rhoads of Springfield, Mo., a quiet daredevil, a reconnaissance pilot, was shot down in his unarmed RF-46 Shooting Star only five hours before the cease-fire 10 p.m. July 27.

The 32-year-old pilot with the big smile beneath a baseball cap is remembered by fellow pilots for his determined venturing into well defended areas of North Korea for photographs vital to U. N. intelligence.

When making "visual" reconnaissance, Rhoads was known

Raw Garbage Feeding Nets Fine Of $100

Wallace Roberts of 1515 So. 2nd was fined $100 in Lancaster County Court after pleading guilty Friday to a charge of feeding raw garbage to animals.

It was the first prosecution in this county under a law passed in September, 1952, by the Legislature called in special session to deal with the outbreak of vesicular exanthema, a swine disease, in Nebraska, according to Deputy County Attorney Dale Fahrbruech.

Fahrbruech told Judge Herbert Routh that Roberts said he could neither read nor write and did not know the law had been passed and recommended a minimum fine. Maximum fine is $500.

Inspectors from the state department of agriculture found the raw refuse in Robert's swine pen, Fahrbruech told the court, and that Roberts said he obtained it from a produce company.

The law prohibits feeding of raw garbage, except from the owner's household, unless heated to a specified temperature.

Roberts said he had fed this type of garbage before passage of the law, but would have stopped if he had known it was wrong.

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Eugene A. Gilmore, 82, president emeritus of the State University of Iowa, died at his home here Wednesday. He had been in failing health since last spring.

Dr. Gilmore was widely known as an educator and lawyer.

From 1922 to 1927 he was vice governor general and secretary of the Philippine Islands, and became acting governor general on the death in 1927 of Gen. Leonard Ward.

He was born in Brownville, Neb., July 4, 1871. Survivors include a son, Eugene Jr., with the American Embassy in Lima, Peru, and formerly a member of the University of Nebraska faculty.

Attorney General Rules Minors Can Sell, Handle Liquor

Selling and handling of intoxicating liquors by minors does not constitute possession or sale of liquor, the attorney general held in an opinion given to the State Liquor Commission Tuesday.

The commission said that frequent inquiries are received from counties of the state in regard to this section of state law. It was pointed out that state law contains no prohibition against minors working in or frequenting taverns.

However, they continued, cities may by ordinance make such a prohibition or other controls they desire as long as they do not conflict with the state law. Lincoln was cited as an example where city ordinances prohibit minors selling intoxicating liquor.

2 Put On Probation In Sodomy Case

Two Lincoln men, Dr. Simon L. Wolters, 48, and Neal Snidow, 33, who entered pleas of nolo contendere to charges of sodomy involving the other, were placed on maximum five-year probation by Lancaster District Judge Harry Ankeny.

Snidow, who preceded Dr. Wolters in court appearance for sentencing, was given leave by the court to change an earlier plea of guilty to nolo contendere. He had pleaded guilty when arraigned in District Court on May 27.

Dr. Wolters, who pleaded nolo contendere on Oct. 8 in District Court, had previously pleaded not guilty in County Court and waived preliminary hearing.

In placing the two defendants on probation to Adult Probation Officer George Meyer, Judge Ankeny said careful consideration was given to the Probation Officer's investigation of the case, character letters from ministers and friends received on their behalf, and testimony in court.

Several character witnesses appeared for each defendant on his behalf. Probation Officer Meyer told the court his investigation showed that the defendants were eligible for probation.

The two men were arrested on May 25 southwest of the State

Daughter Gets $37,500 In Damage Suit From Father

FAIRBURY, Neb. (AP)—A District Court jury Wednesday awarded $37,500 to Mrs. Dorothy Ottoberg, Sumner, Wash., in a damage suit against her father, Charles Holz, Fairmont, Minn.

The jury deliberated for about six hours before returning its verdict.

The suit, which asked $50,000, resulted from an auto accident July 30, 1952, at the Diller crossing on Highway 3, about 13 miles west of Beatrice. Mrs. Ottoberg charged neglect on the part of her father.

Holz, who was driving the car, is alleged to have lost control of the vehicle when he tried to pick up a 12-month-old baby riding in the front seat which had fallen to the floor.

The car left the highway and struck a tree. Mrs. Holz was killed and Mrs. Ottoberg was injured in the crash. Mrs. Ottoberg was riding in the rear seat at the time and Mrs. Holz in the front seat of the car.

Southeast Officials Hit Lancaster 'Lost' Tax Stand

Southeast Nebraska county officials by and large are taking a dim view of Lancaster County's efforts to collect "lost" gasoline and auto registration taxes from the state treasury.

This came to light during Wednesday's session of Southeast Nebraska County Supervisors, not in the formal meetings but in corridor discussions.

Most of the supervisors have been following with keen interest Lancaster County's movements aimed at lodging a claim to cover the difference between actual state allocation of tax revenues based on 1940 census figures since Jan. 1, 1951, and those that would have been due if 1950 census figures had been used.

"I don't blame Lancaster for trying," commented Ben Dale, Richardson County supervisor, "but we'll do all we can to discourage its success."

Dale explained that Richardson lost population during the 1940-50 decade, adding that "only a few counties gained. Most of us lost. A Lancaster victory would be a real hardship except for one or two growth

Liquor Tax Revenue Running Behind '52

State liquor tax revenue for 1953 is running slightly behind collections for 1952, the October report of the Liquor Control Commission showed.

Collections for the first 10 months of 1953 amounted to $2,437,946, compared to $2,447,666 in the first 10 months of 1952.

October receipts this year totaled $273,005, compared to $239,759 in October, 1952.

Trucks register there and they get the tax benefits. Well, we'll fight it all we can," he said.

Hubka we concluded that we would come out about the same either way. However, if Lancaster prevails, it might be a different story."

The Butler County delegation did not take it so calmly. Supervisor Wm. Maruska described the move as "an attempted grab" by a big county.

"I suppose Douglas will be in there with both feet, too."

"The big counties are getting more than their rightful share now. They get lots of truck registrations because they have big cities. Lots of outstate-operated

Cost Of Nebraska County Government Will Show Decline Of $300,000 In 1953

Nebraska county government costs will show a decline in 1953, probably about $300,000, Elgie Bute, deputy auditor, said budgets submitted by 88 counties indicate.

He pointed out that this reduction was made in the face of the counties now having to pay all of over-ceiling medical costs for assistance recipients, instead of the previous 25 per cent.

The counties raised $13,793,265 last year and this year he estimates the total of their budgets to be $13,488,409 to be raised by taxation.

The figures do not include property taxes that will be levied for school districts and cities.
